Bethany Road Improvements

Work is underway for improvements to Bethany Road from the west corporation line near Hickory Woods Drive to Mason-Montgomery Road.

A center turn lane will be added along with curb and gutter, and a bike path. As part of the project, a culvert will be replaced between Heartwood Lane and Reserves Place. The replacement will require closure of Bethany Road which is tentatively scheduled March 26 through April 2 coinciding with Mason City School's spring break. The closure will be dependent on utility relocation efforts currently underway.

An additional closure will be necessary during the summer for changes to the road profile to improve sight distance for side streets.

For project information and updates on any upcoming closures, please visit ProjectMason.org

Change

017 brought about many changes in the City organization, community, and surrounding region. While change is not unfamiliar to us, many still fear change. Change involves an element of the unknown and we naturally fear what we don't know. We hate seeing what we know become something else and often our first reaction is to reject it.

Life has more lessons to teach than we have time to learn. No matter where you are in life, there is always room for improvement. For some, it's easy to sense when the time has come to strive toward the next level. For others, it takes drastic measures to realize they are not where they want to be. It takes a certain amount of self-awareness and humility to progress as individuals, or an organization, community, and region. The first step is we must be willing to become students and build from what we already know.

Never growing is not an honorable trait. Change involves establishing strong relationships and communication. Mason is welcoming new faces on Council, on staff, and in our neighboring communities. I look forward in 2018 to building on existing friendships, developing new friendships, and watching the community and region continue to grow and remain a premier region in Ohio and surrounding states.

TRUSTEE LELLE LUTTS HEDDING

his is the best time in Deerfield Township to be involved with local politics. People are paying attention, and I find that fascinating and exciting! After a year of attending trustees' meetings, I decided to run for Deerfield Township Trustee to be the change I wanted to see in the world. I listened, and I talked, and I listened some more to the residents of the Township saying what was important to them, and the representation they wanted. With a diverse background in communication, I want to give the power of the Township back to the residents, where it belongs. Listening is key to successful communication, and I plan on listening, and involving the public in the future growth and direction of the Township. What does this mean for the residents? It means an increase in communication. It means active problem solving. It means community input meaning something because your opinions matter. My job is to represent the people of the Township. Your needs will drive the direction of the township. Please, feel free to reach out to me. I'm accessible and willing to work through issues together.

TRUSTEE LONNIE VESTAL

t is a privilege to serve as a trustee of Deerfield Township. Over the last few decades, our Township has become the largest residential community in Warren County, and that growth has produced a wealth of wonderful citizens! I view this office as an opportunity to serve as a steward of Deerfield's future. Truly, our best days are ahead of us, and as we continue to grow, I am confident that all of us, as citizens of Deerfield, will find our place, our home, and our service in this community, Martin Luther King Jr. said, "Everyone can be great, because everyone can serve." For the next four years, it is my honor to serve Deerfield Township, a community that is second to none!

TRUSTEE KRISTIN MALHOTRA

am excited to be your new trustee! Being trustee means that I get to help make this township a better place in which to live, work, and play. As many of you know from the campaign, I ran for this office because I believed that you, the people of Deerfield Township, were not being heard on a number of major issues. I intend to listen to you on what you want to see out of this township. Please don't hesitate to reach out to me with any questions or concerns, and I will answer them honestly and respectfully. It is important to feel that you can have a say in your local government—after all, we are responsible for things that affect your everyday life.

I have lived in Ohio for the past 22 years, and have lived in the Deerfield Township/Mason area for the last four. I graduated with a degree in Chemical Engineering from the Ohio State University. I love to give back to my community every way that I can. I volunteer on a weekly basis with my therapy dog at West Chester Hospital and I also am a member of the executive board of Give Back Cincinnati, the largest young professional volunteer group in the Cincinnati area. Becoming a public servant is a continuation of this drive for community service.

FISCAL OFFICER DAN COREY

am Dan Corey, your new Fiscal Officer. You might recall that most recently I have been your Trustee. Now, I will be providing the Township with succession planning by staying on the leadership team as our Township's Fiscal Officer serving alongside our three new Trustees-Kristin, Lelle, and Lonnie.

The Fiscal Officer serves the key role of advising the trustees on financial matters and making sure the township's finances are sound. The two other primary roles of the Fiscal Officer are to submit our Annual Audit to the State Auditor's Office each year and keep the public records for the Township. I am committed to continuing the township's plan to be debt free by 2020. Few, if any, local governments will ever achieve a no-debt goal, but Deerfield can.

I look forward to the upcoming days for Deerfield Township as we continue to provide a high level of government services at the lowest cost to our taxpayers.

Caring for the Community

n early October, the City received a letter addressed to the Mayor from a fourth grade Mason resident asking for assistance with a street light that kept getting hit by an automobile in her neighborhood. The street light had been hit three times in the last two years. Nikki Alluru asked if staff could help her make the street light more visible to motorists before Halloween in order to keep trick-or-treaters safe in her neighborhood.

The City contacted Duke Energy to get the street light repaired then Public Works Director David Riggs and Officer Stephanie Neal met Nikki and her family to help her install reflective tape on the street light. The Engineering Department then had the street centerlines painted to help motorists avoid the street light.

Thank you, Nikki, for taking such an interest in your community and helping to keep your neighborhood safe. Residents are encouraged to contact the City of Mason by email at www. imaginemason.org or by phone at 513.229.8500 for issues related to their neighborhood or the Mason community.

Dear Mr. Kidd,

My name is Nikki Alluru and I am in fourth grade at Mason intermediate school. I saw you once at Western Row when I was in third grade. I bet you don't remember me but I remember you because you are the mayor of our city and you came to see us at school. That was very cool!

I am writing to you because in school we are doing a citizenship project and I want to help out. There is a street behind Discount Drug Mart in Mason close to where I live and one of the street lights keeps getting run over by cars. It could be because the lightbulb is not on at night and people can't see where they are going. So, I was wondering if we could first replace the bulb so that it won't keep going out. Secondly, we can paint the pole in a fluorescent color so people can see where they are driving and not run the street light over. I think it will be a nice touch and will be safe for people.

I may be able to help out if you want me to but I can't help during school times so I am available on the weekend. I also hope to get this done by Halloween so that when kids are walking around, they are able to see the light and know where they are going.

Please call or email me back.

Thank you way much for helping our community.

Nikki Alluru

Miss Nicki Alluru assists Public Works Director David Riggs and Officer Stephanie Neal to place reflective tape on repaired lightpole.

Street lights are an essential part of City streetscapes. They improve motorist and pedestrian movement, are an effective deterrent in crime prevention, and add to the aesthetics of the community. The Public Works Department maintains over 700 City owned streetlights. These include subdivision street lights as well as the decorative lights found in the street medians. Duke Energy owns over 6,500 street lights in the City. These are typically the street lights in most subith the warmer temperatures outside, there will be more and more patrons visiting Mason City parks. Mason's parks offer a number of activities and events from baseball, soccer, and Frisbee golf to walking paths and more. When using the parks or at a City event, patrons need to be mindful of the weather conditions predicted or sudden changes in weather conditions. Participants, spectators, and visitors are encouraged to follow some simple safety measures:

"When Thunder Roars, Go Indoors."

In 2001, the National Weather Service established the program "When Thunder Roars, Go Indoors" in an attempt to reduce the number of individuals annually killed due to lightning strikes. The National Weather Service recently reported that lightning killed 16 people in 2017—the fewest deaths since accurate records began in 1940.

Turn on Government Alerts/Emergency Alerts on your cell phone.

The Warning Alert and Response Network Act, sometimes called the WARN Act gives the FCC the authority to adopt standards for cell phone companies to transmit emergency alerts. U.S. phone carriers have worked with the federal government to come up with a way to push alerts to cell phone devices to warn you about dangerous weather, missing persons, or other matters of grave national importance. Participation by cell phone companies is voluntary and companies may not impose an additional charge for such alerts if they do participate.

The system was based on the existing Emergency Alert System (EAS), which are the warnings that you get on television and radio when there is a weather incident or other emergency.

Alerts are sent to cell towers providing wireless service to a target geographical area, and then all WEA-capable phones using those cell towers receive the alert. Thus, you will receive an alert if you are in a targeted area even if you are just visiting that

Emergency alerts are issued because of an imminent threat to public safety or life, such as evacuation orders or shelter in place orders due to severe weather (tsunami, tornado, flash flood warnings, hurricane, typhoon, dust storm, extreme wind, blizzard, ice storms, a terrorist threat or chemical spill). A pre-authorized na-he City of Mason currently has nine outdoor warning sirens and an additional one under construction which are activated by the Warren County Communications Center. The purpose of the outdoor public warning siren system is as an early warning device to alert citizens to take shelter indoors and seek additional information immediately. The outdoor warning system is an effective method of notifying those that are outdoors, to seek shelter indoors, but it is only one component of a comprehensive emergency warning system. In addition, you should obtain a NOAA weather radio, familiarize yourself with the Emergency Alert System (EAS), and tune in to local media reports, from television, radio, and social media.

The sirens are not designed to be relied upon to provide sufficient warning indoors or in noisy areas. Air conditioning, thunder, wind, rain, and other conditions can cause the sirens not to be heard indoors or even sometimes outdoors. Sirens are tested the first Wednesday of each month. However, they are subject to lightning strikes and are exposed to the elements and other hazards that can cause them to malfunction. Everyone is encouraged to have multiple ways to receive information about severe weather.

When sirens are activated seek shelter immediately.

tional, state, or local government agency sends an emergency alert to FEMA, which then sends the alert to the participating cell phone companies, each of which then sends the alert to WEA-capable phones in the zone of emergency.

Please keep in mind that you might not receive an alert at all if you are on the phone or texting at the time.

Download Weather App

Consider downloading a weather app to your cell phone. There are a number of apps offered that can help alert you to severe weather conditions approaching or already in the area.

Outdoor Warning Sirens

Mason currently has nine Outdoor Warning Sirens with an additional one under construction. The purpose of the outdoor public warning siren system is as an early warning device to alert citizens to take shelter indoors and seek additional information immediately.

When Training Talent Is a Community Affair

his story is the first in a new series about talent development in our community. This and future stories will feature collaborations with the City of Mason, Mason City Schools, the Mason corporate community, and regional economic development partners.

Talent development is not new. But its importance in today's workplace cannot be overstated. In tough times, companies rely on the loyalty of their best employees to stay strong. When the economy is good and unemployment low, companies that invest in developing talent are better able to recruit, hire, motivate and keep the highest quality, most productive, and most engaged workers.

The City of Mason has been part of the national conversation about talent attraction, development, and recruitment for years. Successful partnerships with local businesses and initiatives with JobsOhio, BioOhio, CincyTech, and others match qualified candidates with Mason employers and connect the community.

Now the City has taken a page from its long-standing work with college co-op and experiential learning programs and brought it to the local level with the Mason City School District. These strategies can exist not just in companies, but also within the community. By interning with the City, high school students earn academic credit while getting experience that bridges the gap between the educational and professional worlds. At the same time, the City educates its younger citizens about the behind-the-scenes work of public service and the positive impact of good governing and policy—and possibly even identifies and trains future employees of its own departments or those of its business partners.

Mason has hired interns periodically for many years. The City also regularly hires seasonal help, especially during the summer months, to assist parks and public works staff with mowing and brush/litter removal, painting, weed eating, and other maintenance projects. However, in 2016, the City formalized a partnership with Mason High School to host interns annually. The program provides more opportunities for students to explore the real-world use of skills they learn in the classroom, while simultaneously developing Mason's local workforce.

Since that launch, the City has hosted student interns in departments ranging from administration and information technology to engineering, human resources, and economic development. During their tenure, students become true partners with meaningful assignments. One technology intern developed an intranet to share information, news, and other communication resources among City employees. Students with an interest in managing programs have helped oversee recreational camps. Interns also have promoted and staffed the City's many special events, including the Heritage Festival, Christmas in Mason, and Red, Rhythm, and Boom.

"Not only do students gain valuable experience and knowledge, but they also get exposed to careers in local government or in businesses right here in their hometown that they might not have known existed," says Jenna Hurley, administrative assistant to the City Manager and the City's intern program contact. "It increases the odds that they go off to college or some other educational track and then return to Mason to pursue their career goals."

Debra Gentene, the experiential learning coordinator for Mason City Schools, says the partnership benefits both organizations. "The City of Mason has a reputation for being a progressive, innovative community, so it is a natural fit for the City to be interested in partnering with Mason City Schools to provide innovative opportunities to support student learning," Gentene says. "There are not very many high schools offering programs such as experiential learning. I feel the partnership between the City of Mason and Mason City Schools is unique because we share many consistent values for our community."

"I don't feel like an intern."

Avery Brown, 18 and a senior at Mason High School, is currently interning in graphic design. At this time, he hopes to attend the University of Cincinnati to major in marketing or design. His internship provides the perfect platform to test those interests.

"My favorite job is my long-term project, a guide for new citizens," Brown says. "It's definitely an extensive process, but it's really fun. I know that, in the future, every new citizen of Mason will see my work, and with the constructive criticism of my fellow workers, it will be my best work possible.

"The most surprising part of my internship is that I don't feel like an intern," Brown says. "The other workers treat me as if I actually work here, and everyone is very friendly. I am very grateful for this internship because it gave me a preview of post-collegiate work and has taken a lot of my nerves away about a 'real' work setting."

Career prospects for our field are above average

The internship program is so successful that Karli Farrell shares those thoughts. An 18-year-old student at Indiana University, Farrell was an administration intern for the City from May to August 2016. She helped create PowerPoint presentations and coordinated meetings and events. "Everyone was so nice and respected me, even though I was just a high school student," Farrell says. "It made me feel special and excited to come work with them."

During her internship, Farrell helped staff with a City of Mason parks tour. "I helped tell stories about the parks, passed out water bottles and cake, and spoke with those who participated to ensure they enjoyed their experience," Farrell says. "I learned a lot of personal responsibility during the internship. I was also working another full-time job during the summer. So, I developed essential time management skills that I am using every day

The internship helped the French horn and finance double major determine her career goals. "I hope to become an orchestra manager when I graduate from college," Farrell says. "My internship helped me decide that I love working with people, and though I love performing, I would prefer to work with and manage the professional performers in orchestras."

the City is looking for ways to expand its impact. One goal is raising awareness about good careers for students who prefer not to attend college. The City recently began a discussion with local agencies, including the Warren County Career Center, about opportunities for high school students seeking immediate work after graduation.

For example, the City's state-of-the-art Water Reclamation Plant treats up to 5 million gallons of wastewater daily and maintains nearly 150 miles of sewer lines. As the City's population grows, the need for operators to provide safe, clean water for families will grow, too. A number of local water treatment employees are nearing retirement. As a result, the City wanted to take a proactive role in educating students about jobs in this field that do not require a college degree.

In February, a group of Mason students toured the Water Reclamation Plant. This spring, the City hopes to launch a program allowing interested students to intern there. They'll collect water samples, record and analyze data, and operate equipment.

The problem-solving and customer service skills students gain are adaptable to any job. However, they also can be immediately applied toward earning the Environmental Protection Agency's Class I state operator certification. This certification requires 12 months (or a little more than 2,000 hours) of hands-on experience. So, interns who start working at the plant during the summer of their sophomore year and return each summer and during holiday breaks would receive a significant portion of that experience while still in high school. The City also plans to provide training to help them study for the certification exam.

"Career prospects for our field are above average," says Shawn Hollon, the plant's director. "There is always a demand for talented people. That demand is not predicted to decline any time in the future."

In addition to job security, he notes that wastewater treatment careers have location flexibility, since every community has a local wastewater plant and collection system. It's also rewarding knowing that what you do benefits society by preventing disease and pollution of streams and rivers.

No specific requirements, just a desire to work hard

When selecting student interns, the City focuses on qualifications over experience. Supervisors look for students with a passion for learning and good work ethic.

"Students who are adaptable, willing to roll up their sleeves and work hard are the most successful," Hurley says. "Here in the City of Mason, we all work as one team and assist where the need is greatest throughout the City, no matter what department you work for. I think this speaks to our success as an organization. This is an attitude we try to instill in our student interns, as it is a characteristic that sets you up for success no matter what career path you choose."

Intern Perspectives

ince 2016, the City of Mason has welcomed 10 student interns to its team. Several of them shared thoughts on what they found most valuable and surprising about their internships:

"I learned a lot during my time at the City. Not only how to be a better designer, and what the business aspect of this career is like, but most importantly I learned how to be resourceful. When working for the City, a lot of people are expecting you to make deadlines and provide them with what they need in order to make the operation work. My work was my own, and I was expected to give results. This pressure taught me immensely about how to utilize what resources I had at my disposal to the best of my ability. I learned how to work around hindrances and problem solve." -2017 Graphic Design Intern Nihal Ahmed, 16

"The most valuable thing I have learned is that prioritization is everything. Since my work has a direct impact on all of the participants of Mason Youth Basketball, I have to make sure that I do what is most beneficial to both the City of Mason and the families. My favorite part of the job is watching all of the kids, coaches, referees, parents, grandparents, and scorekeepers doing something they love and knowing that none of that would have been possible without me." -2018 Mason Community Center Intern Tani Madichetti, 15

"Teamwork with all of the departments was essential in developing the intranet. I was able to attend City staff meetings and watched how the City government operates. It was really interesting to see how all the departments worked together to make our City great." -2016 Information Technology Intern Nidhi Iyanna, 17

"To be successful at a company or on a team, it's vital to understand the culture fostered by its members, and being a good fit for said culture. For me— etting accustomed to a work environment I may very well find myself in again—that exposure has been the most valuable lesson to learn, especially in the rapidly changing work scene." -2018 Engineering Intern Anna Komissarova, 17

n 2007, City Council updated the City's solicitation ordinance so that while it was sensitive to local groups and fundraising efforts, it was effective for more aggressive neighborhood solicitors. Now vendors are required to register with the Mason Police Department for any sale or solicitation in the City. The administration fee for each registration is $75. Tax-exempt entities, as defined by ORC Section 5709.04, are exempted from obtaining a permit. Individual representatives of vendors who have obtained a permit are required to carry a copy of the approved permit while engaged in solicitation in the City. Owners of a premise who oppose any solicitation may post "No Solicitation" signs at the entry of their premise or the entry to the principal building on the premise. A penalty may be imposed on vendors who violate any section of the ordinance. Door-to-door solicitation shall only be between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. In addition, no solicitation tactics are permitted that are coercive, abusive, or misleading.

Residents who are approached by a vendor without a permit or feel unsafe should contact the Mason Police Department. Thank you for helping keep Mason neighborhoods safe.

Bike Safety for Big Kids

f they haven't already, your children are just about to lose those training wheels. Here are a few tips to keep them safe as they soak up the adventure.

Helmets

- We have a simple saying: "Use your head, wear a helmet." It is the single most effective safety device available to reduce head injury and death from bicycle crashes.
- Make sure your child has the right size helmet and wears it every time when riding, skating, or scooting.
- You'd be surprised how much kids learn from watching you, so it's extra important for parents to model proper behavior. Wear a helmet, even if you didn't when you were a kid.
- Your children's helmet should meet the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission's standards. When it's time to purchase a new helmet, let your children pick out their own; they'll be more likely to wear it for every ride.

Bikes

- Ensure proper bike fit by bringing the child along when shopping for a bike. Select one that is the right size for the child, not one he or she will grow into.
- Actively supervise children until you're comfortable that they are responsible to ride on their own.
- Every child is different, but developmentally, it can be hard for kids to judge speed and distance of cars until age 10, so limit riding to sidewalks (although be careful for vehicles in driveways), parks, or bike paths until age 10. No matter where you ride, teach your child to stay alert and watch for cars and trucks.
- Long or loose clothing can get caught in bike chains or wheel spokes. Dress young kids appropriately to ensure a safe ride.
- Before the ride, make sure the reflectors are secure, brakes work properly, gears shift smoothly, and tires are tightly secured and properly inflated.
- Teach your kids to make eye contact with drivers. Bikers should make sure drivers are paying attention and are going to stop before they cross the street.
- Tell your kids to ride on the right side of the road, with traffic, not against it. Stay as far to the right as possible. Use appropriate hand signals and respect traffic signals, stopping at all stop signs and stoplights.
- When riding at dusk, at dawn or in the evening, be bright and use lights—and make sure your bike has reflectors as well. It's also smart to wear clothes and accessories that have retro-reflective materials to improve biker visibility to motorists.

Mason's Lindner Center of HOPE Receives Two of Nation's Largest Individual Gifts Ever Made for Behavioral Health Programs

Unprecedented Commitments Totaling $75 Million Will Fund Clinical, Research, Capital, and Education Initiatives

n a press conference on December 19, 2017, at the Lindner Center of Hope in Mason, top leadership across Greater Cincinnati's community of medical, research and development, corporate, and political organizations gathered for the announcement of a commitment to mental health support, innovation, and excellence. The contribution is believed to be two of the nation's largest individual commitments ever made for behavioral health programs and the largest ever received by the Center.

Totaling $75 million, Cincinnati business leaders and philanthropists Linda and Harry Fath have pledged a $50 million challenge gift and Frances and Craig Lindner have made a $25 million commitment to meet this challenge. The commitments, to be given over their lifetimes, are the largest ever received by the Center.

"My family believes in the power of the Lindner Center of HOPE to help Americans and people from around the world who have lost hope," Mr. Fath said. "It is time to break the silence associated with mental health and recognize much more must be done to understand, treat, and care for people with mental illnesses. We challenge others to help this incredible organization offer more people the care they deserve now and in the future."

Mr. Fath, a lawyer and entrepreneur, is owner of Fath Properties, a real estate management firm based in Cincinnati. Mr. Lindner is co-CEO and co-president of American Financial Group.

"Frances and I were so moved by the incredible generosity of Linda and Harry Fath that we decided to contribute an additional $25 million to the endowment fund," said Mr. Lindner, who founded the Lindner Center of HOPE along with his wife, Frances. "Our hope is that others will be inspired to join us in the effort to help more people on the road to mental wellness through the Lindner Center of HOPE."

The gifts will support the development and expansion of clinical programs to provide treatment for conditions including depression, schizophrenia, bipolar, substance use, and eating disorders. It will help fund research, professional education, and capital improvements at the Center.

A portion of the gifts will be earmarked to provide patient financial assistance and public outreach to reduce stigma.

National Scope, International Reach

The Lindner Center of HOPE has served nearly 30,000 patients from all 50 states and from countries around the world. The Lindner Center of HOPE's Research Institute is a lead contributor in groundbreaking programs, such as the Mayo Clinic's Individualized Medicine Biobank for Bipolar Disorder, which is studying the connection between gene types and medicines that treat disease.

The City of Mason's Commitment to Mental Health

This is a tremendous time for The Lindner Center and the mission it serves within mental health. This is also outstanding for the City of Mason, the southwest Ohio Region, and the global patient and research community that LCOH serves. The City of Mason has a strong commitment to nurturing the growth of research and innovation within the biohealth sector and specifically is committed to the mental health sciences. The location of LCOH in the City over the past decade has been a catalyst for an evolving culture of wellness, recognition of mental health stigma and ways to combat it, connectivity of research and research partners that are making strides in new treatments, and technology development. With LCOH, the City has taken on shared Mason Community Center programming, community education, and safety service collaborations with Mason Police, Fire, and EMS. Assurex Health, a Mason based company, grew as a mental health startup in the City partnering with LCOH. A growing community of companies and people has rallied around the topic of breaking the stigma, finding resources, and changing lives. The City of Mason would like to add its congratulations to LCOH and many thanks to the bold contributions of the Fath and Lindner families. We look forward to what tomorrow brings.

K9 Major Retires

n December 21, 2017, K9 Major completed his career as a Police K9 and entered retirement. Major was purchased in 2011 with funds donated by the Matt Haverkamp Foundation. In January 2012, Major and Sergeant Michael Bishop achieved certification by the State of Ohio to be utilized for narcotics detection and patrol related tasks.

Major's primary duty for the City of Mason Police Department was to support road patrol operations on a day to day basis. In addition to these duties, Major assisted the Warren County Tactical Response Unit, The Warren County Drug Task Force, and numerous other area law enforcement agencies. Major has received several awards and commendations, including a life-saving award. His career is highlighted by the numerous public demonstrations and events including boy scouts, girl scouts, church groups, as well as D.A.R.E. classes and Citizens Police Academy classes. Major's role in community policing was one of the most rewarding aspects of his career.

The average working life of a police canine is typically five to seven years. Major will have completed approximately six years of service with the City of Mason upon his retirement and will be eight years of age at that time. Major has recently been diagnosed with degenerative myelopathy, a progressive disease of the spinal cord. In retirement, Major will enjoy his time residing with Sergeant Bishop and his family.

KNOW YOUR RISK DURING FLOOD SEASON

What: Flooding is a temporary overflowing of water onto land that is normally dry. Flooding may happen with only a few inches of water, or it may cover a house to the rooftop. There are many possible causes of floods including heavy rain or snowmelt, coastal storms and storm surge, waterway overflow from being blocked with debris or ice, or overflow of levees, dams, or waste water systems. Flooding can occur slowly over many days or happen very quickly with little or no warning, called flash floods.

Where: Flooding can happen in any U.S. state or territory. It is particularly important to be prepared for flooding if you live in a low-lying area near a body of water, such as near a river, stream, or culvert; along a coast or downstream from a dam or levee.

When: Flooding can occur during every season, but some areas of the country are at greater risk at certain times of the year. Coastal areas are at a greater risk for flooding during hurricane season, while the Midwest is more at risk in the spring and during heavy summer rains. Ice jams occur in the spring in the Northeast and Northwest. Even the deserts of the Southwest are at risk during the late summer monsoon season.

Basic Safety Tips:

- Turn Around, Don't Drown!
- Avoid walking or driving through flood waters.
- Do not drive over bridges that are over fast-moving floodwaters. Floodwaters can scour foundation materials from around the footings and make the bridge unstable.
- · Just six inches of moving water

- can knock you down, and one foot of moving water can sweep your vehicle away.
- If there is a chance of flash flooding, move immediately to higher ground.
- If floodwaters rise around your car but the water is not moving, abandon the car and move to higher ground. Do not leave the car and enter moving water.
- Avoid camping or parking along streams, rivers, and creeks during heavy rainfall.
 These areas can flood quickly and with little warning.

Flood Watch:

 Flood Watch = "Be Aware." Conditions are right for flooding to occur in your area.

Steps to Take:

- Turn on your TV/radio. You will receive the latest weather updates and emergency instructions.
- Know where to go. You may need to reach higher ground quickly and on foot.
- Build or restock your emergency preparedness kit. Include a flashlight, batteries, cash, and first aid supplies.

Prepare Your Home:

- Bring in outdoor furniture and move important indoor items to the highest possible floor.
 This will help protect them from flood damage.
- Disconnect electrical appliances and do not touch electrical equipment if you are wet or standing in water. You could be electrocuted.
- If instructed, turn off your gas and electricity at the main switch or valve. This helps prevent fires and explosions.

COLLABORATING WITH REGIONAL PARTNERS TO WIN TOP PROJECTS IN MASON

he City of Mason's Research & Development Park competed for and was selected to receive an extensive development evaluation as part of the State of Ohio's SiteOhio Program. The program requires extensive preparation and data collection to be eligible. Mason's economic partners, JobsOhio and REDI Cincinnati, administer this program, which is designed to rigorously evaluate high tech, advanced manufacturing, and industrial properties based on utility capacities, accessibility, environmental constraints, and building opportunities in order to certify them as ready for development. Mason is currently one of only four local jurisdictions within the Southwest Ohio region that has met the criteria that allows for this evaluation.

The Mason Research and Development Park consists of 387 acres located between Bethany Road and Bunnell Road and spans from the west side of S.R. 741 to U.S. 42. It is part of the North Mason Development District that is over 1,100 acres. Portions of the Park were evaluated early on through a partnership with Duke Energy and the Duke Site Readiness Program. The continued relationship with Duke and now JobsOhio and REDI to "pre-qualify" this development area of the City has been an ongoing commitment and has resulted in the Mason Research & Development Park competing for several high profile projects over the last five years.

As part of the program, this past December, a team of top national site location consultants spent the day in Mason evaluating via an economic development exercise that involved Mason's economic develop-Jobs Ohio ment, planning, engineering, and utilities management teams. Additionally, Mason assembled all regional agencies that are typically involved as a company or consultant making a decision. Thank you to Duke Energy, Greater Cincinnati Water Works, Mason Waste Water, and our private sector host 360 Pharma.

This type of activity has been important to the long term planning vision that the City has undertaken over the past two decades. Securing development areas that mesh well with surrounding zoning uses and understanding the highest and best use for the properties are elements that are key to the long-term success of the City. Having this data and setting plan> ning tools in place allow the City to be well positioned to compete and also the liberty to be choosey and attract quality business partners that will be contributors back to the City. Examples of contributions from our Corporate Partners go beyond the initial investment and job creation. Corporate partners that have helped shape Mason also contribute collaborative work with school partners, dialogue and programming around training a future workforce, parks, community center, and wellness initiatives. Look for more information on this work with our partners REDI, Warren County, and Jobs Ohio in 2018 as we anticipate adding to the value and outcomes in Mason's economic development.

Why do the Ambulance and the Firetruck Respond to the Same Call?

he fire department believes their residents deserve the very best care that they can provide. If a call is dispatched for a life threat-ing emergency, such as trouble breathing or possible heart attack, the fire department will send extra personnel to assist providing the appropriate care. It is these types of calls that are time sensitive and require several responders to manage their care. In addition, this allows the department to maintain crew integrity in case another call comes in on the way back. Therefore they will be able to respond immediately as a complete unit.

When individuals with injuries are found at the scene, firefighters responding in the ambulance are immediately available to provide emergency medical care.

he Mason Road Widening project was completed within Deerfield Township in November 2017. The project was awarded to Rack & Ballauer Excavating Co., Inc., in March with work commencing in June. The project, a collaboration between Deerfield Township, the Warren County Engineer's Office, and the Ohio Public Works Commission, included widening over 2,000 feet of roadway from two to three lanes within the Township limits. The improvements to this important arterial road will alleviate congestion and provide safer travel for motorists in the northern part of the Township.

CONSIDERING INSTALLING A POOL OR SPA?

pring is a very popular time of year for new pool construction. If you are considering installing a pool please keep in mind that permits are required for pools, hot tubs, spas, as well as storable or wading pools that use electrical equipment for cleaning, servicing, and/or operation. The permit process is designed to help protect the safety of residents and help ensure they continue to remain good neighbors. The Mason Engineering and Building Department at 513.229.8520 can help answer any questions you may have about the permit process and zoning for your new pool.

Please keep in mind:

- · Residents are encouraged to first check with their Homeowners Association for any covenants or restrictions that may prohibit the installation of a pool.
- Generally pools should be located 10 to 25 feet from the property line. The distance may vary depending on the zoning of the property.

- · A plumbing permit is required when pools are served by a permanent water supply and/or a permanent drain system. Plumbing permits can be obtained from the Warren County Board of Health at 513.695.1228.
- An inspection and permit are required for electrical installation of pool equipment and accessories to verify compliance with electrical code and aid in creating a safe environment for your family.
- · A fence or barrier wall is needed for a swimming pool, basin, or tank of water that is more than 24 inches in depth. The fence or barrier must be at least 48" in height surrounding the swimming pool, basin, or tank of water.

The Engineering and Building Department's goal is to make all projects safe to protect your family and avoid accidents. You can find more detailed information about this topic at www. imaginemason.org, where there are helpful guidelines for electrical swimming pool and spa safety and fence/ barrier requirements.

Jonathan Cooper Named Next Mason City Schools Superintendent

fter Superintendent Gail Kist-Kline announced she would retire at the end of the 2017–2018 school year, the Mason City School Board determined it was essential to select a chief executive who could keep the high-performing school district on its course of providing high impact learning, superb staff support, and deep parent and community partnerships.

Mason City Schools next Superintendent is a familiar face. Jonathan Cooper has been tapped to take the reins of the high-performing district after Dr. Gail Kist-Kline retires on July 1.

"Jonathan is a visionary, values-driven, community-oriented leader who has built deep relationships with district partners and business leaders and helped make Mason a leader in innovation and professional development. Staff and community members who have worked with Jonathan describe him as authentic, an inspiring unifier, a person who engenders trust and has a heart for others, who builds systems and cohesion, and forms positive, productive relationships," said Matt Steele, Board President.

"I am honored that the School Board has entrusted me with this great responsibility. It is such a joy to be able to serve Mason's students, staff, families, and community in an even deeper way. I have been fortunate to work closely with Dr. Kist-Kline and learn from her courageous leadership, and I'm excited to build on the foundation that she and our school board and dedicated staff have firmly established," said Cooper.

Cooper joined the Mason City Schools executive leadership team in 2014. As Mason's Chief Innovation Officer, he led the development of the Mason Experiential Learning Program, allowing hundreds of students to participate in a diverse array of authentic learning experiences throughout the greater Cincinnati region. A partner-oriented leader, Cooper co-created Mason Innovation Week in collaboration with the City of Mason Leadership team and the Chief Operating Officer of Festo USA. In order to make professional development more meaningful for educators, Cooper created the Mason Learning Series which in three years went from 138 teachers attending to over 1,000 educators learning together in personalized pathways. Cooper also restructured the district's $2 million technology budget to eliminate excess programs and transitioned it from a traditional technology replacement model to a learner-centric technology transformation plan that saved the district over $200,000 annually.

A key success was Cooper's effort to design and implement a district-wide 1:1 Personal Learning Device Program ensuring that all 10,500 students and teachers had access to a personal learning device within his first three years in Mason. This fall, Cooper was awarded the 2017 Excellence in Education Award and the 2017 Rising Star Award from the Mason Deerfield Chamber of Commerce. Since January 1, Cooper has been serving as Deputy Superintendent where he oversees key personnel and Master Facilities Plan decisions, in addition to Chief Innovation Officer duties.

Surgeon Brings Personal Touch to Weight Loss Experience

During her surgical training at Good Samaritan Hospital, Katherine Meister, M.D., became fascinated with the technical aspects of performing weight loss surgery. "Weight loss surgeries are completely laparoscopic through small keyhole incisions," she explains.

What she didn't expect was how much she enjoyed the personal interactions with patients who received the surgery. "I saw patients coming back a year after surgery in tears because they were so happy with what we had done for them. They were able to come off their insulin because their blood sugar was now controlled. They can play with their grandkids without hip or knee pain. They can ride in an airplane. I like that aspect of impacting someone's life."

Meister's training as a general surgeon allows her to remove gallbladders, fix hernias, and do other abdominal surgeries. Her passion, however, is bariatric surgery—weight loss surgery that has the potential to transform people's lives.

"These surgeries can make people live longer, and they're as safe as getting a gallbladder or appendix out," she says. "We can improve people's overall health status by affecting medical conditions such as high blood pressure, high cholesterol, fatty liver disease, and sleep apnea. The surgery often cures diabetes, and weight loss can reduce the risk of cancer."

She notes that an estimated one in five cancers could be prevented if people maintained a healthy body weight. In addition to getting healthier, people also have the chance for a better quality of life. Without the excess weight, it's so much easier to walk the dog, garden, travel, and enjoy life.

"We can reset the vicious cycle of overeating and inactivity and get people back to doing things they enjoy," Meister adds.

SUCCESS WITH TRIHEALTH WEIGHT MANAGEMENT

- · After completing a bariatric surgery fellowship at The Cleveland Clinic, Meister joined TriHealth's weight management team in fall 2017 and firmly believes that their multifaceted approach to weight management is what helps people succeed.
- "Some people aren't ready for surgery, so we offer both non-surgical and surgical weight loss options," Meister explains. "Our biggest strength is our team camaraderie and collaboration."
- Three dedicated bariatric surgeons—who have performed more than 1,800 surgeries—work with patients and seek input from exercise physiologists, psychologists, and dietitians to make a plan that's best for each
- "The team spends a lot of time with our patients preparing them for surgery and what to expect after surgery."
- A native Cincinnatian, Meister is pleased to practice in her hometown. She sees patients at the TriHealth Fitness & Health Pavilion in Montgomery and in her Clifton office. She performs bariatric surgeries at Good Samaritan Hospital's Bariatric Center of Excellence, which has a dedicated surgical team and special accommodations for people with a large body size.

CANDIDATES FOR WEIGHT LOSS SURGERY

Having witnessed people's ability to transform their lives through weight loss surgery, Meister recommends considering this option if you:

- · Have a body mass index (BMI) over 40 with no additional medical problems or a BMI over 35 if you have problems related to weight.
- Accept that surgery isn't a quick fix but a tool to help with lifelong change. You still have to exercise, eat the right food and eat the right

She emphasizes that obesity is a disease, and it's not necessarily a person's fault that he or she is obese. She encourages people to address their disease and have a support system around them to make a change.

What's most gratifying about the work she does is "seeing how happy my patients are long term. They're accomplishing what they want to accomplish in life."

Katherine Meister, M.D., Group Health TriHealth Physician Partners, sees patients at 6200 Montgomery Road at the TriHealth Fitness & Health Pavilion; she also has an office in Clifton. For information, call 513.862.4957 or 513.246.7000.

Mason City Schools Master Facilities Plan

chool facilities send important signals. They indicate respect for the people who spend their days in our schools—students, teachers, staff—and the families who entrust their children to their school district. School facilities are also a key ingredient to ensuring a positive school climate and culture.

Mason City School District voters have made significant investments in the schools where our community's children learn. In December 2013, district officials learned that a long-awaited moment had arrived—Mason's "number had come up" and the district was eligible to receive approximately $34 million from the Ohio Facilities Construction Commission to offset the cost for needed facility improvements. This school year we began implementing Mason's Master Facilities Plan. In 2019–2020 all 10,500 Mason City Schools students will attend school at the Mason Early Childhood Center (grades PK–2), Mason Intermediate School (grades 3–6), Mason Middle School (grades 7–8) or Mason High School (grades 9–12).

How We Got Here

The Ohio Legislature established the Ohio Facilities Construction Commission in 1997 using state tobacco settlement money to help fund new and renovated school buildings. The Mason City Schools Board of Education joined the Commission's Expedited Local Partnership Program in 2001. Since that time, most district construction and renovation projects qualified for 25 percent state reimbursement.

"Deciding to enter the state of Ohio pool for an opportunity of earning future dollars from the State Tobacco Settlement Fund was not an easy decision. It was a carefully measured risk with the potential for great reward. We had the opportunity to earn back 25 cents on the dollar for every dollar spent on future building. It was the perfect timing for Mason. We knew we had a critical decision to make as a community. So we went to the community to ask if we should either split the district and build two new high schools or keep the district together with one large high school. Community Forums were held and the decision was to build one large high school. After the high school project came need for more space at the middle school, the expansion of Mason Intermediate, and then the building of the Early Childhood Center. All the dollars spent on these projects were included in the total for the 25 percent return on investment from the state fund. Over these 17 years, the Boards of Education, two superintendents and three treasurers reaffirmed this commitment," explained Marianne Culbertson, Mason City Schools Board Member from 1994 to 2013.

What's Happening Now

MASON EARLY CHILDHOOD CENTER

This year, the district broke ground on the modest addition to the Mason Early Childhood Center and relocated the preschool playground. MECC preschoolers have been enjoying their inclusive playground all year. The new second grade classrooms, a new gymnasium located in the back of the building, and an expanded cafeteria are on track to be ready for all of the district's preschool through second grade students and staff in August 2018.

MASON MIDDLE SCHOOL

During the 2018-19 school year, Mason Middle School will undergo a complete renovation and the district's seventh and eighth graders will temporarily attend school in the MMS section of Mason Intermediate School and the MMS section of Mason High School.

The remodeled MMS will feature keyless entryways that improve the ability to monitor visitor access, new surveillance cameras to enhance school safety, a new HVAC system that improves energy efficiency, a modernized cafeteria, updated learning spaces, and a new roof and lighting.

WESTERN ROW ELEMENTARY

The 2018-19 school year will be Western Row Elementary's last year educating Mason City Schools students. During 2018–19, the district's third and fourth graders will attend school in the 1962 building and in temporary learning spaces next to the building. The district hopes to find another great neighbor who will utilize the building and/or property. In 2012, the district sold a former school, Mason Heights Elementary, for $1 million to Royalmont Academy.

Future Enrollment

Today, enrollment in the Mason City School District has stabilized. The district's largest class, the Class of 2018, has 920 students and there are 675 first graders. The district contracted with an independent firm to develop a comprehensive demographic study to produce accurate enrollment projections by considering historical enrollment trends; historical, current and planned residential development; live birth trends; and the number of private, charter, or transfer students who come into or leave the district. Mason City Schools' enrollment will gradually decrease to about 9,500 students over the next 10 years.

Today's addition to the Mason Early Childhood Center, Mason Middle School renovation, and updates to Mason Intermediate School are being funded without new local taxes. Over 80% of the funding for these projects comes from the Ohio Facilities Construction Commission.

Mason Manta Rays Recognized as Gold Medal Club on the 2018 USA Swimming Club Excellence List or the first time in the City of Mason's history, the Mason Manta Rays have been awarded the top honor of a Gold medal ranking in the USA Swimming Club Excellence program. The USA Swimming Club Excellence program recognizes the organization's highest-performing, well-rounded programs in the development of athletes 18 years and younger. The City of Mason Manta Rays finished in 8th place out of 3,000+ teams. The Manta Rays were the only team in Ohio to achieve the Gold Medal status this year and 8th place is the highest ever Club Excellence place for a team from Ohio.

"Starting as a City of Mason Parks & Recreation program 15 years ago, Mason Manta Rays have been blessed with so many talented young athletes and coaches that make it possible for us to achieve this standard of excellence for the first time. These swimmers all had great age group coaches who guided them along the way and we are very fortunate to have had had most of our coaches for over 10 years. We are so proud of the athletes who made this recognition possible as well as the swimmers who came before them who laid the foundation for this year's success," said Ken Heis, Mason Manta Rays Head Coach.

Keeping the Pace of Play

Follow these simple tips to ensure you keep a good pace on the course:

- Arrive at the first tee a few minutes prior to your tee time.
- Play the correct yardage for your golfing ability. If you are hitting fairway woods and hybrid clubs into every green you should probably move to a more forward tee box.
 - Shorten your pre-shot routine to one practice swing.
 - Take a couple of clubs and walk to your shot instead of waiting
 - just in case a ball goes astray.
 - Keep pace with the group in front of you.
 - If the group in front is nowhere in sight and the group behind is waiting on every shot, pick up your pace or let the faster group play through.
